

Theory of Change

How we help rural schools and communities create lasting educational change.

1 The Challenge

Poverty limits access to education

Limited books and learning materials

Poor sanitation and limited facilities

Barriers facing girls and gender inequality

Poverty and limited local resources

2 What African Revival Does

School infrastructure: schools, classrooms, latrines and rainwater tanks

Literacy and books

Teacher and school leadership support

Girls' education and protection

Community ownership

Local partnership and learning

3 How Change Happens

We work with schools, communities, teachers, girls, and local partners

We provide school infrastructure where needed so schools become safer, more inclusive, and better equipped.

Children attend more regularly, learn better, and stay in school longer

4 Outcomes

Better attendance and retention

Improved learning and reading confidence

Safer, more inclusive schools

Greater confidence and support for girls

Stronger local ownership and sustainability

5 Long-term Impact

Children in rural Uganda and South Sudan complete a better basic education and gain improved life chances. Schools, families and communities are better able to sustain change over time.

What makes African Revival distinctive

Rural focus

Whole-school approach

Local partnership

Long-term relationships

TOGETHER, WE'RE BUILDING STRONGER SCHOOLS AND BRIGHTER FUTURES.

Building hope. Transforming lives.
